"Random Harvest" Now At Daly City

Two players indelibly linked to the work of James Hilton, the novelist, work on a Hilton story together for the first time in "Random Harvest," Hilton's haunting romance of a lost memory, now showing at the Daly City theatre. They are Ronald Colman, who starred in "Lost Horizon," and Greer Garson, of "Goodbye, Mr. Chips."

"Random Harvest" sees Colman as an Englishman who loses all memory of his past during the first World War. He is befriended by a young actress, played by Miss Garson, and inspired to become a writer of ability. They marry and have a child.

Then an accident opens his mental door to his past but blanks out memory of his marriage and life after the war. He takes over his estates and becomes a powerful industrialist. The wife, maintaining silence regarding their relationship, becomes his secretary. Through her devotion the threads of his immediate past are finally gathered together in a hauntingly charming climax.

Miss Garson wears elaborate fashions and does a song and dance number in kilts. Colman gives a compelling performance, as does Miss Garson in the dramatic episodes. Mervyn. LeRoy directed

LEGION AUXILIARY SELLS POPPIES HERE

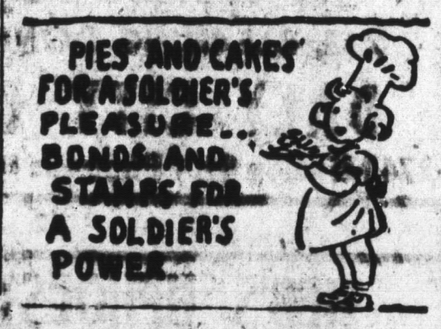
America's dead of two wars are being honored, this week, as millions of Americans wear red poppies as a symbol of remembrance and tribute.

Here, as in other cities throughout the country, women of the American Legion auxiliary are on the streets, each day, with baskets of poppies. A large corps of volunteer workers has been organized by Mrs. Margaret Kenny, Poppy chairman for Daly City Unit No. 410, to distribute poppies to everyone in the city.

The poppies have been made by disabled war veterans at Yountville, who have been working at their beds and in the hospital work room during the winter and spring. This occupation has helped them pass the long hospital days pleasantly, has enabled them to earn money and has been valuable in promoting recovery.

While distributing the memorial flowers, the auxiliary women are receiving contributions for the Legion and Auxiliary rehabilitation and welfare funds. All of the money contributed will go into these funds, the auxiliary serving without pay. Poppy contributions form an important part of the funds which support the vast humanitarian efforts of the Legion and Auxiliary for the disabled veterans, and children of the dead and disabled of both wars.

More than 13,000,000 poppies were distributed by the auxiliary last year and the number worn, this year, is expected to be substantially larger. The local Auxiliary unit is prepared to supply a poppy to everyone in the city, and believes there will be few who will fail to honor the war dead and aid living war victims by wearing the little red flowers of remembrance this week. The drive closes, Saturday, May 29.



NEW ROMANTIC TEAM

Ronald Colman and Greer Garson are co-starred for the first time in M-G-M's "Random Harvest" at the Daly City theatre. The film is adapted from James Hilton's poignant and memorable best-selling novel.

Memorial Day Recipes

By BETTY BARCLAY

This year women have more cause than usual to worry about "what to serve on a holiday." Rationing and food shortages are with us in full force. Perhaps the following unusual recipes will help a bit. I sincerely hope so.

Fish Savories

2 cups Grape-Nuts Flakes, finely crushed
1 cup flaked cooked white fish
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
⅓ teaspoon scraped onion
1 egg, beaten with 4 tablespoons milk and dash of salt

Combine 1 cup Flakes, fish, salt, pepper, onion, and 5 tablespoons egg mixture, mixing well. Shape in 2-inch cakes. Roll in remaining Flakes; then in remaining egg mixture; and roll again in Flakes. Fry in skillet in small amount of fat, browning both sides. Serve with tartare sauce or lemon slices. Makes 6 small savories.

White Gold Salad

1 cup grated raw parsnips
⅔ cup orange sections
½ cup shredded tart apple
½ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Combine the peeled, grated raw parsnip, orange and apple; chill. Add lemon juice and mayonnaise to the parsnip mixture and just before serving; mix well. Serves 6.

Celery Knob Ragout

4 small celery knobs or roots (about 1 pound) or 3 cups coarsely diced celery
2½ cups boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
½ pound ground beef
1 cup 40% Bran Flakes, crushed
5 tablespoons water
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
½ cup cold water
4 tablespoons flour

Peel and cut celery knobs into small cubes. Cook, covered, in boiling water and salt 20 minutes, or until done. Remove from liquid.

Combine meat, bran flakes, 5 tablespoons water, salt, and onion and mix well. Shape into small meat balls and drop, several at a time, into hot celery stock. Simmer. As balls rise to surface, remove; keep hot.

Measure stock and add water to make 1½ cups. Add cold water gradually to flour, mixing to smooth paste; pour into celery stock, stirring vigorously. Cook until thickened. Add celery and meat balls. Serves 4 to 6.

Marshmallow Maple Rennet-Custard

1 package maple rennet powder
1 pint milk, not canned
5 marshmallows, diced.

Dissolve marshmallows in 1 cup hot milk. Then add 1 cup cold milk and warm slowly, stirring constantly until lukewarm. Then proceed according to directions on package. Chill, then serve.

READING & WRITING

BY Edwin Seaver AND Robin McKown

LEST we forget, May 10, 1933, the Nazis burned the books of the world's greatest writers to signalize the death of culture. Today, in the U. S., the Council on Books in Wartime says "Books Are Weapons in the War of Ideas" and commemorates the day by working for the widest possible distribution of the world's best books.

MAC KINLAY KANTOR

* * *

It looks as if the small town is coming into its own again. It wasn't so many years ago when books that expressed the frustrations of living in a small town—books like "Winesburg, Ohio," "Babbitt" and "Spoon River Anthology"—were all the rage. Now the picture has changed. We're learning there are a lot of fine things about life in a small town; that, in fact, the small town way of life is what our country is fighting to preserve.

We have only to take a look at some of the recent books to see how true this is. Betsy Fleming's novel, "Colonel Effingham's Raid," and William Saroyan's "The Human Comedy," both featuring typical small communities, have been extremely popular Book-of-the-Month Club selections. And no doubt "Colonel Effingham's Raid" will be as successful a movie as "The Human Comedy" has proved.

Another book of this trend, soon to be a motion picture, is "Happy Land" by MacKinlay Kantor. This is a simple and beautifully told story about a typical small town and about Lew Marsh who ran the town's most popular hangout—Marsh's Drug Store. Lew's son, Rusty, joined up with the U. S. Navy early and he was one of the first casualties. When Lew Marsh learned his son was dead, he brooded about it. Why? he kept asking himself, why had it happened to Rusty? It wasn't fair.

Then one day he had a caller. The caller was his own grandfather, and he was most unexpected, since he had been dead for twenty years. Grampaw, Civil War veteran, had come back for the purpose of talking a little understanding into his grandson. And it was through him Lew realized that "As long as kids can play Indian in the corn . . . as long as American boys can be Boy Scouts, as long as they can eat ice cream, as long as they can do a good turn daily, as long as they can play football, or have a picnic in Briggs' Woods . . . it'll be worth while."

* * *

A good gift for a soldier friend is "As You Were," a pocket-size volume of some of the best in American prose and poetry, edited by the late Alexander Woollcott. It's a wise idea for a soldier to carry a book around with him when he's on leave, Woollcott counsels. He discovered that in the last war. It seems that the M.P.'s in Paris were always accusing the soldiers of being A.W.O.L. On one memorable occasion, however, Woollcott spent a whole evening in Paris without being stopped. He was carrying a book under his arm. After that he always carried one, and was never stopped again. It was apparently unthinkable to an M.P. that a bookish soldier could be on the loose.

County Blood Bank Now Observing First Anniversary

The San Mateo County Blood Bank is observing this week its first anniversary. During the past year over 4,000 pints of blood have been drawn. Of this number over 1500 units of plasma are stored under refrigeration in various parts of the county and available for civilian use in case of emergency. Besides, the Blood Bank has furnished to civilian hospitals fresh blood for 649 transfusions and plasma for 117 infusions, and has made it possible for the cost of transfusions in this county to be cut to one-fifth their former price.

The excess, 1450 units, was donated, without charge to the Naval and Marine hospitals for the wounded returning from the battlefronts.

The successful operation of the bank has been made possible, stated Mrs. Paul J. Hanzlik, executive secretary of the bank, by the continued and faithful service of many individuals and organizations. Volunteers, most of whom have served throughout the year, have worked a total of 7,981 hours.

Hostesses or receptionists have served coffee, cookies and orange juice to the donors during the rest period and are credited with 962 hours.

Volunteers gave stenographic assistance amounting to 706 hours, while Red Cross Nurses Aides who served in taking temperatures and testing hemoglobins contributed 625 hours.

Credit of 1,960 hours go to those who have helped by telephoning and acting as registrars in the blood typing program.

Assistants, experienced in laboratory work, donated 621 hours in blood typing.

Members of the American Women's Volunteer Service have transported blood on emergency calls and have given 63 hours in this service alone.

The home-made cookies served to the blood donors were donated by many organizations including all Parent-Teacher units in the county. Mrs. E. Sogemeier checked to see that the thirty dozen cookies were on hand each week.

Publicity throughout the year has been prepared by Mrs. M. M. Bell and Mrs. Martha B. Herschler.

Dr. Irma Macomber began the important work of drawing blood, during the first months of the bank's operation and contributed 500 hours.

Special contributions have been made by the Borden Company in servicing the refrigeration units which they originally installed, and by C. E. Piatt who audits the accounts of the Blood Bank.

"The contribution of the San Mateo County Blood Bank to this community and to the war effort in general is inestimable. The entire project is a non-profit enterprise organized for the benefit of the entire community. If this service were supplied on a commercial basis, it would represent an expenditure of over $200,000 during the past year," stated Dr. Carl L. Hoag, president of the San Mateo County Blood Bank.

WAVES Release Men From Jobs For Sea Duty

That the WAVES have really 'taken over' in their job of releasing men for sea duty was revealed today with the announcement by Lieutenant Tova L. Petersen that over two hundred of the girls in Navy blue are now on active duty at various naval activities in the Twelfth Naval district.

WAVES are now stationed at the Alameda Naval Air station, the Port Director's office, the Service Force Subordinate Command of the Pacific fleet, the District Chaplain's office, and at Mare Island and Oak Knoll Naval hospitals.

"Belonging to the WAVES," states Lieutenant Petersen, "teaches a girl how to keep secrets. Girls detailed to communications and censorship work, where their duties are highly confidential, are learning that under these circumstances conversation with friends becomes a real art."

As yet only a limited number of SPARS are on duty in the district, but Lieutenant (jg) Dorothy Stewart, procurement officer for the Coast Guard Women's reserve, announces that several score are expected at local Coast Guard activities shortly.

Just for Fun—Picnic at Home

Lack of time, time and gas may mean that picnics in the woods, at the seashore or in the mountains are out of the question during the week-ends to come. But there's nothing that says we can't picnic at home. A backyard or nearby park, or even the roof of an apartment house offers opportunities to get out of doors. It's surprising how delicious even ordinary meals taste when eaten out in the open, even if it is only a few steps from the kitchen.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY—Picnicking is a grand way for the entire neighborhood to get together and have a fun-filled time. If there are children of the romping age, the out-of-doors has added attractions.

Everyone can bring one part of the menu and everything can be pooled for a complete meal. Each family can contribute its share of meat, vegetables and the like to be made into sandwiches, salads, and other offerings. Or the neighbor who has chickens, rabbits or eggs might want to make his contribution concludingly, as well as the neighbor who likes the prize Victory garden. In any neighborhood, there are always a few people who are long on some foods and short on others who would welcome this chance to share.

To make it a real party affair, let your neighborhood gathering be followed by a good old-fashioned sing fest. It's lots of fun.

THE PICK-UP AFFAIR — Remember how you used to dash at the last minute for goodies and treats for a spontaneous picnic? Pack the same kind of a last-minute lunch or supper and take to the backyard. Plan and pack the eats just as though you were going miles away for the day. That eliminates running in and out of doors for something every other minute.

PORTABLE MEALS—Casserole dishes are easily transportable for either planned or last-minute picnics. Bring the casserole out even hot at the last minute.

"BAKED" BEANS — Boil beans until tender, then combine in casserole with grated onion, finely chopped green pepper, fine tomatoes, salt, pepper, molasses and dry mustard. Bake in slow oven (300° F.) to heat thoroughly and blend flavors. Delicious hot or cold.
